Tenders for roofing the Wetaskiwin hospital were received from the City Plumbing Store, J. A. Hay & Co. and Mellett & Co. As the tenders were for different work, the matter was referred to Supt. Watson to prepare specifications, and other tenders will be asked for.

Mrs. Rodell and Mrs. Mellett, a deputation from the Women's Institute, addressed council asking permission to erect war memorial on two lots next to W.I. building, the ownership of the lots to be retained by the city. The city will reserve the lots in question for the Women's Institute.

E. Stein applied for position as weighmaster, at salary of $40.00 per month. The application was referred to the committee.

Chief of Police Kingzett reported on contents of isolation hospital. The matter was referred to property committee to have same disposed of.

Chief Kingzett submitted his report for March, which was received and filed.

Supt. Watson reported that R. M. Angus had returned portion of plot used by him and that cash was paid for balance, thus settling the account.

The property committee reported that several properties were rented as pastures and gardens.

Ald. Scott was elected deputy mayor for the next three months.

LOCAL KIWANIANS ENJOY TALK ON JUNIOR RED CROSS

Miss Patterson, secretary of Junior Red Cross in Alberta, gave a very enlightening address at the Kiwanis luncheon Tuesday evening. The Junior Red Cross grew out of the war and is the largest organization in the world with a membership of over 100 million in thirty-eight countries. It is endorsed by the league of nations. Canada was the leader in the movement, the first branch being formed in Calgary in 1922, and now there are branches in every province. It has a three-fold object—health, citizenship, service. In 1924, the sum of $10,326 was raised by the Juniors in little bits. The Calgary hospital has accommodation for 38 patients and it is full all the time, and the University Hospital, Edmonton, treated 36 last year, and has 20 at the present time with a long waiting list.

LEGISLATIVE SESSION CLOSED ON SATURDAY

Edmonton, April 4.—Working at full speed until 6.35 on Saturday evening, after a three-hour morning session and another gruelling grind in the afternoon which commenced at two o'clock and ran right through until the last bill had been disposed of, the first session of the sixth legislature of Alberta, prorogued at 6:45 with His Honor Lieutenant-Governor Egbert giving assent to 82 bills which had been passed during the fifty-one day session.

Little enthusiasm marked the closing of the session. A few members cleared their desks by throwing the bills and order paper littering them into the air, but for the most part the legislators were feeling the fatigue of the last week, which ended with a midnight session on Friday, after sitting afternoon and nights all week, and the morning and afternoon sittings on Saturday, and they filed out of the chamber quietly and made preparations for leaving Edmonton on early trains.

Shortly before adjournment the premier announced that he would leave for Ottawa on Monday, having to be there to appear before the parliamentary committees on Thursday and Friday. He will probably be accompanied by Hon. Vernon Smith, minister of railways, or by John Callaghan, deputy minister, as his most important mission is to appear before the legislative committees of the house of commons and give his views on the Peace River railway problem.

W. I. TO ERECT WAR MEMORIAL

At a meeting of the Women's Institute last week it was decided to erect a memorial in honor of the men of this district who made the supreme sacrifice in the world war. The two lots adjoining the W.I. rooms on the west have been secured in perpetuity and it is likely that the monument, which will be a handsome one, will be erected on this site during the coming summer. It is very fitting that this tribute should be erected in the jubilee year.

NORSE GATHERING AT VIKING IN JULY

Viking, Alta., April 4.—The provincial gathering of the Norsemen League of Canada will be held at Viking on July 6 and 7. Extensive preparations are now being made for entertaining a large crowd. The proceedings will be somewhat in the nature of the Camrose meeting of the league last year. Local committees are already at work on the various phases of the program which will occupy two days. All the societies and the village council have promised co-operation with the central committee in making it a success. Norsemen throughout the three prairie provinces and western States are expected to attend in large numbers.

U. S. FARMERS WILL BRING MUCH WEALTH

Winnipeg, April 4.—If the assertion of special immigration agents of the Canadian Pacific department of colonization materializes, millions of dollars in cash and movable property will come into western Canada through the influx of farmers from the United States this summer, says J. R. Ryan, of the St. Paul office of the railway company, who has just returned from Saskatchewan.

"This movement will equal that of 1912 and 1913, when the Saskatchewan office of the company alone handled land sales which amounted to between three and four billion dollars, and Alberta did even better," said Mr. Ryan.

MANY NEW SETTLERS HAVE BEEN PLACED

During the past week large numbers of new settlers have arrived in the district, and nearly all of them have been located on the land or as helpers with farmers. Many of them have money and will purchase land later. Rosenroth Limited placed about 50 Swiss and Scandinavian families during the past few days.

INDIANS KILL WHITE MOOSE

Surrounded by a band of Indians in the vicinity of Wabiskaw, a white moose was recently shot there, the first of its kind that has been seen for several years. Though he hurried to the scene of the killing as soon as he got the news, in an endeavor to save the valuable hide, says Ranger Axel Smith, of Athabasca, he arrived too late. The squaws had already removed the hair from the skin in preparation for tanning the hide into buckskin.

PLANNING CANNING FACTORY

Mr. Blott, of the Brother Canning Company, of New Westminster, was in the city last Thursday looking over Red Deer as a location for a canning plant. The company finds that they cannot take care of their present prairie business with the present plant at the coast, and have decided to open up in Alberta. They have been looking over Lethbridge, Edmonton and Red Deer. The company would require four or five hundred acres of peas for their first season's work—Advocate.

OBITUARY

ADOLPH REHAUME
Another old-timer passed away on Saturday morning last in the person of Adolph Rehaume, at the age of 74 years and 4 months. He had not been feeling well for some time and was staying at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Bourque, where he was being treated. He was born in Wisconsin, but resided for several years in Minnesota before coming to the Wetaskiwin district 26 years ago. He homesteaded two miles east of the city and 11 years ago moved to the Hay Lakes district.

He leaves a widow and six sons and three daughters, namely: John and J. E. Mrs. Bourque and Mrs. Klobke, of Wetaskiwin; Nelson, Irvell and Mrs. Power, at Millik; George at Wynne, and Edmund in Idaho.

The funeral took place Monday forenoon, service being held at the Roman Catholic church at 11 o'clock by Rev. Father Walravens. The interment took place in the R.C. cemetery. The pallbearers were Messrs. N. Begun, A. Abousaffar, M. Welser, Alex. Cunningham, P. Patenaude and E. Bourque. Among the floral tributes, which were beautiful, was a wreath from the Old Farmers' Association of Northern Alberta.

DR. RUSH RETURNS THE COMPLIMENT

Toronto, March 29.—According to the Japan Times, of Tokyo, Dr. W. T. Rush, late superintendent of a United Church hospital in Alberta, is one of the central figures of a recent contest in international friendliness. The Japanese newspaper says:

"Dr. W. T. Rush, who has been for some years connected with a hospital in Lamont, Alberta, is serving as ship's doctor on the Taiyūmaru in order to recuperate his own health. While the Taiyūmaru is in Yokohama harbor, Dr. Rush is the guest of Mr. and Mrs. R. P. Alexander. Almost a year ago, when Dr. Rush was making a similar trip, he was standing one day on a street corner in Kyoto studying a map, when a young Japanese approached him and asked, 'He could help him in any way.'"

Dr. Rush asked the young man to direct him to the Imperial university in Kyoto, but the young man said 'I will take you there.' He acted as Dr. Rush's guide to the Imperial university and then to the Doshisha. Dr. Rush noticed that the young man seemed depressed. He learned that he had made all plans to go to an American university, but some difficulty had prevented him from going. Dr. Rush took up the young man's case and secured him entrance to the University of Alberta, where he is now an earnest student."

TOP PRICE OF SALE FOR LACOMBE BULL

Calgary, April 2.—Jos. Biglands of Lacombe, topped the list at the bull sale at Victoria Park on Friday afternoon, when his magnificent Short-horn, Flash Prince, was knocked down to H. Morrison of Lacombe for $150. Incidentally this was also the highest price that had so far been paid at this year's sale.

J. M. Lamont, of Wexeyn, parted with Cuchellin Prince for $400. He also received $225 for Cuchellin Agate.

Three of the Prince of Wales' Short-horns were sold, Princeton Plancher bringing $355, Princeton Fairfax $345, and Princeton Fighting $325. $350 was paid for the Rev. Archdeacon Dewdney's Merlin of Albion, and P. A. Switzer, of Lacombe secured $315 for The Governor. The Alberta department of agriculture secured $275 for Rammed Pair Lad and $250 for Mayflower Premier.

For real good animals very fair prices prevailed. For anything that was not classed, however, moderate prices were not exceeded.

$15,000 PAID FARMERS OF PONOKA FOR HOGS ONE DAY

ROYAL PURPLE MEETING

The first regular meeting of the Order of the Royal Purple will be held in the Rites' Hall on Monday night, April 11th, commencing at 8 o'clock.

PROHIBITIONISTS ASK SEVERAL CHANGES IN LIQUOR LEGISLATION

Further tightening up of the liquor control act was urged upon the legislature through its agricultural committee by a delegation from the Alberta Prohibition association Friday. The suggested changes included the restriction of quantities of liquor sold, the elimination of special vendors' and waiter permits, a simpler form of voting on the local option ballot, the closing of beer parlors on Christmas and other holidays, the removal of all newspaper advertising, and the withholding of a license within the Waterton Lakes park.

A. L. Marks, president of the prohibition organization, presented the resolutions passed by the recent convention and in doing so complimented the government for not having marked its liquor profits for any specific purpose, but declared that the term "government control" was a misnomer. The liquor commissioner, he said, has made an good record in the enforcement of the act as possible, "but no human being can control this business."

The drink traffic has been reinstated in Alberta, claimed Mr. Marks, and in proof he pointed out that $11,780,000 in special tax liquor in the province last year. Liquor-induced convictions numbered 2,800, a much larger number than under prohibition. As to the government's part in the control, of the 547 places in the province in which liquor is sold only 29 are vendors' shops under operation by the government.

Newspaper advertising of liquor should be prohibited, thought Rev. Dr. A. S. Lewis, who expressed hearty approval of the government's action in forbidding billboard advertisement of liquor, but who argued that it is inconsistent to restrain publicity in this respect and permit it in the newspapers. There is strong evidence, said Dr. Lewis, that the latter class of advertising has increased the volume of liquor business, and the government is therefore, helping to swell the sales, though it is theoretically not interested in that phase of the question.

Rev. J. S. Knight protested, in behalf of the prohibition association, against the granting of a license at Waterton Lakes. He pointed out that several of the U.P.A. locals had passed resolutions against it and that the U.P.A. convention had endorsed their position.

MISS INGLIS GIVEN A PLEASANT SEND-OFF

A farewell party was given on the evening of March 30, in the assembly hall of the Alexandra school, in honor of Miss Violet Inglis, late principal of the King Edward school and teacher of Grade VII. The evening was spent in games, after which lunch was served.

Miss Inglis was presented with an increase of handsome gifts as tokens of the high regard in which she was held. The class presented her with two beautiful volumes—a Tennyson and a Scott's poems. The teaching staff gave her a handsome parcel and a letter of appreciation. Mr. Poops, principal of the Wetaskiwin schools, made the presentation.

The Week at Ottawa

By William Irvine, M.P.
At the moment of writing, it is fully expected that the session will close before the Easter holidays. The Maritime Rights recommendations, as contained in the Duncan Commission report, has been regarded as highly contentious, and it was thought, prior to the recesses of the prime minister in respect thereto, that the discussion would occupy many days and tend to prolong the session far beyond Easter. The acceptance by the government of the commission's recommendations, almost in their entirety, will apparently shorten very materially the discussion anticipated. The Maritime provinces have a long standing grievance, real or imaginary, against the Dominion in respect of alleged rights, which it is contended were provided for at least in the spirit of the British North America Act at the time of Confederation. Briefly, these rights have to do with subsidies payable to the provinces by the Dominion in lieu of the Dominion having taken from the provinces at Confederation, certain powers of taxation. The Maritime provinces claim, in this regard, that they have not been treated fairly since their boundaries have not been extended since Confederation by the addition of any new territories, while other provinces have added greatly to their natural resources, and all developments, undertaken by the Dominion government in respect of the natural resources, in the Maritime provinces, have been paid from the public treasury, and part of which was, therefore, paid by the people of the Maritimes. In addition they claim that the understanding at Confederation was that trade was to be developed through (Continued on Page 6)

Provincial Weekly News Bulletin

An encouraging feature of the Public Health department of Alberta for 1926, is the great improvement in the diphtheria situation. In Lethbridge alone, it is stated, the annual number of cases has been cut down from 80 to 5. The improvement has come about as a result of the use of the toxoid. In foreign districts, 3,156 persons have been given this treatment. A total of 15,350 persons were given vaccine during the year.

The nursing branch had 130 schools under inspection during the year, in which 2,991 first inspections and 1,184 subsequent ones were made. Home visits totaled 235, and 12 child welfare clinics were held in child welfare districts. In the three cities of Edmonton, Calgary and Medicine Hat, 200 clinics were held, with a total attendance of about 10,000. The district nurses in the frontier districts made more than 1,000 calls during the year with 547 medical cases, 184 surgical cases, and 33 obstetrical cases to attend to.

The travelling clinic which visited outlying districts, examined 746 medical cases, with 212 operations performed for "tuberculosis," "tuberculosis," "tuberculosis," and 321 dental treatments. The scope of these clinics will be extended this year.

Four new municipal hospital districts were created during the year, and all districts are in good shape financially. There are 75 approved hospitals in the province altogether, including city hospitals, and 75 private hospitals.

The vital statistics report shows 12,583 births registered for 1926, with reports still to come in, 4,473 marriages, an increase of 219; 154 divorces an increase of 63; and 5,125 deaths, an increase of 724.

In the mental hospital at Ponoka there are 856 patients, an increase of 68. There were 313 admissions during the year and 177 discharged, of which 78 were cured, 63 improved, 15 not improved, and 21 not insane. The recovery rate is 23.76 for males and 28 per cent for females. At the Oliver Institute, for feeble minded, there are 215 in residence, and at the training school for mental defectives at Deer, there are 137 patients.

Educational Growth in Alberta
During the year 1926, 29 new school districts were erected in Alberta, compared with 25 in 1925. Three new rural high schools were also erected, making five, now in operation, at a cost of 16 per quarter section.

The total enrolment in public and high schools of the province for 1926 was 156,526, compared with 147,794 in 1925. The daily average attendance was 110,527. The rural schools were able to keep going 184 days in 1926 compared with 175 days in 1925. The new grants provided for rural schools under certain conditions brought benefit to 667 one-room schools.

There is a growing demand for secondary education, especially in rural schools, where 62 per cent of them in grade 8 took high school entrance exams compared with only 48 per cent in 1925. A total of 3,428 left school at the age of 15, which is a decrease over former years. A total of 1,139 left at grade 8. There are 2941 school districts in operation in the province.

In the technical institute, there were 1164 students. In the special correspondence course for children in outlying rural districts, there were 225 enrolled, with a total of 300 since the course was instituted.

At the Alberta University, there were 1,202 students registered in all courses in 1926.

Workmen's Compensation
A total of 8,920 accidents were registered with the Workmen's Compensation Board of the province during 1926. Of these 55 were fatal, 87 gave permanent disability, and 8,785 gave only temporary disability. Total compensation paid was $288,491.40, with $391,065.95 transferred to the

What was described by Hon. Geo. Hoadley, Alberta minister of agriculture, as the greatest event in the livestock industry of Canada, took place in Calgary on Wednesday evening of last week, when at a banquet provided by the Calgary exhibition board, livestock men from all over the Dominion, together with other notable men in other walks of life, were present. It was probably the greatest gathering of its kind ever held. Among the prominent guests present were: Lieut. Gov. Egbert, Hon. Dr. Tolmie, former federal minister of agriculture, R. J. Speer, president Winnipeg livestock exchange, S. W. Worley, assistant general manager Canadian Bank of Commerce, Hon. Duncan Marshall, former Alberta minister of agriculture, officials of departments of agriculture and livestock associations throughout the Dominion.

Highway Expenditures
Alberta will spend $2,200,000 on highways and bridges the coming year, according to a statement made by Hon. O. L. McPherson, minister of public works. This will include $1,000,000 on main highways, $550,000 on maintenance and on construction and maintenance of bridges.

5 Boils on Neck, 3 on Arm
At Same Time

Mr. E. G. Collins, London, Ont., writes:—"I was writing a few lines in prison of Burdock Blood Bitters which relieved me of boils that I was very badly troubled with."

I had five on my neck and three on my arm at the same time, and could not get any sleep I was in such misery. I saw your

The Greatest Mystery Story Ever Written

BEAU GESTE

By PERCIVAL CHRISTOPHER WREN

I am tempted to tell, in full, the story of this evasion, for it was a most romantic business, with all the accessories of fiction and melodrama. I have said that the story of this journey alone would fill a large volume, and I would be small cause to say that a complete account of our sojourn in Agades would fill another.

I wish I had space in which to tell of the incredible things we saw in this place, whose atmosphere and ways and deeds were those of a thousand years ago.

I have read that the first Europeans to set out in Agades were the members of the French Military Mission (which came with the great annual salt caravan from the south in 1904), but I could tell of a fair-haired man who stared at us with blazing grey eyes, a man whose tongue had been cut out, whose ears and fingers had been cut off, and who was employed as a beast of burden.

I could also tell of a thing that sat always in the Sok, mechanically awaying its body to and fro as it crooned. Its lips, eyelids, ears, hands and feet had been cut off, it was blind, and it crooned in German.

I should like to tell of Tegama's ex-enthusiasm, four negroes who were the most animal creatures I ever saw in human form, and not one of them less than seven feet in height. The specialty of their leader was the clean neat flicking off of a head of any required kind, from a finger to a leg, with one stroke of a great sword; while that of another was the tattooing of the maximum number of wounds and injuries without causing the death of the victim.

They were skilled laborers and their work was their hobby.

I could tell of some very remarkable able adventures, risks, dangers and escapes in Agades, and of some very strange doings in that horrible "palace" with its plots and intrigues, jealousies and hatreds, factions and parties, if space permitted.

And when our time and opportunity came (and we were led one dark night to where four camels, with water and food for two or three days, awaited us) we would not have taken advantage of the chance, being weaponless, and we did not feel that we ran a greater danger by remaining.

Tegama was growing more suspicious and more truculent, and I rather think that the dumb Hank and Duddy had been overheard in fluent converse. Probably we gave ourselves away too, whenever we ate, drank, prayed, sat, stood, sneezed or did anything else, as the weirdest kind of weird Mussulmans who ever said "Bismillah ar-Rahman ar-Rahim."

It was time to go and we went, aided by a young person of magnificent physique, magnificent courage, and negroid ancestry—probably the daughter of some negro slave woman from Lake Tchad.

Unfortunately it was utterly impossible for her to get us weapons. We escaped from Tegama, but not from the consequences of our encounter with him. He did not destroy us, but it was to him that we owed our destruction.

Riding as hard as we could, we followed the tactics of our escape from Zinderneuf, feeling sure that if Tegama pursued and recaptured us, our fate would be sealed and our deaths inglorious and unpleasant.

We therefore avoided the caravan route that runs from Agades, and struck out into the desert, hoping that, as hitherto, we should, sooner or later, discover someone or something that would lead us to water.

After three days of painful wandering, we chanced upon the wretched encampment of some aboriginal herdsmen, black, almost naked, and armed only with bows and arrows. They lived apparently by trapping ostriches by means of lathered footpads concealed beneath the bushes and trees, and horns and necks, on which the birds feed.

These primitive people were camped beside an inexhaustible pool of water among colossal boulders as big as cathedrals.

Here we rested ourselves and our camels for a few days, and then again set out, with our leather water-skins filled and our food-bags nearly empty.

A couple of days later we were riding in a long line, but within sight of each other, and scouting for signs of human beings or water. Hank was on the right of the line, I next to him, and half a mile away, having Duddy on my left, with Digby at the far end.

Looking to my right, I saw Hank, topping a little undulation, suddenly wheel towards me, urging his camel to its utmost speed.

As I looked, a mob of riders came riding over the skyline, and two or three

MAGNESIA BEST FOR YOUR INDIGESTION

Warns Against Doping Stomach With Artificial Digestants

Most people who suffer, either occasionally or chronically from gas, sourness and indigestion, have now discontinued disagreeable diets, put out foods and the use of harmful drugs, stomach tonics, medicines and artificial digestants, and instead, following the advice so often given in these columns, take a teaspoonful of two tablets of Bismarck Magnesia in a little water after meals with the result that their stomach no longer troubles them, they are able to eat as they please and they enjoy better health. Those who use Bismarck Magnesia never dread the approach of mealtime because they know this wonderful antacid and food corrective, which can be obtained from any good drug store, will instantly neutralize the stomach acidity, sweeten the stomach, prevent food fermentation, and without the slightest pain or discomfort. Try this plan yourself, but be certain to get pure Bismarck Magnesia especially prepared for stomach use.

of them, halting their camels, opened fire on us.

Duddy rode at full speed toward me and Hank. Digby was cut off from view by a tor or rock.

"Dismount and form square," yelled Hank, riding up. I knew what he meant.

We brought our camels to their knees, made a pretence of getting our rifles from under the saddles, and crouched behind the camels, and levelled our sticks as though they were guns, across the backs of the camels, and awaited death.

"This is what we give what's come to us," said Duddy.

"The damned galsots may not call our bluff," growled Hank.

The band, Hoggar or Tebu robbers by the look of them, bore down upon us with yells, on pleasure and profit hunt—the pleasure of slaughtering us and the profit of taking our camels—brandishing swords, lances, and rifles as they went along.

I could have wept that we had no rifles. Steady magazine fire from three marksmen like ourselves, would have brought the yelling fiends crashing to earth in such numbers as might have saved us and provided us with much that we sorely needed.

The feeling of our utter impotence was horrible, and like the impotence of a nightmare. To be butchered like

SHE COULD HARDLY SPEAK OR BREATHE Cold Was So Bad

Mrs. E. H. Grosvenor, Baymore, Sask., writes:—"I would like to tell you that I think Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup is one of the very best remedies for a cold."

I had such a very bad cold I could hardly speak or breathe, so I went to our druggist's and asked him what he thought best for a cold. He advised me to take and I must say I felt grateful to him for, besides being very pleasant to take it relieved my cold quicker than anything else I ever tried. I don't think any one should be without a bottle of it in the house."

games here, the first ending in a 2 to 1 tie after 30 minutes of overtime, the second going to Port William by 3 to 2, while they won the third by 4 to 1 count and last night by 2 to 1. It was the toughest game in the world to lose and the best to win.

Society Adopts New Plan

At a meeting of the directors of the Leduc Agricultural Society held on Wednesday afternoon, it was decided to try out a new plan in connection with the fair this year which is to be held on August 3. The idea is to charge no entry fees, but instead to deduct 25 per cent from the amount of prize money won. In other words those not winning prizes will have nothing to pay for entering. The membership fee of one dollar will be charged as usual, but those who had a dollar retained in 1925 will be considered members for 1927.

This arrangement will not mean any more money to the society but it is hoped that it will mean more exhibits. The plan is said to work well in two or three places where it has been tried in the province. Entries will, of course, have to be made in the usual way in order to facilitate the work of placing and judging.

Leduc Representative.

SHOULD WHEAT BE GRADED ON BASIS OF PROTEIN CONTENT?

The wheat kernel contains five proteins. The two principal ones are gliadin and glutenin. When wheat flour is made into a dough these two proteins combine with one another to form what is known as "gluten."

The protein content of wheat is ascertained by making a chemical analysis of the wheat berry to obtain the content of nitrogen. The nitrogen content multiplied by 5.7 gives the crude protein, as wheat proteins contain approximately seventeen per cent nitrogen.

The quality of wheat is dependent upon several factors, one of which is the quantity and quality of the protein it contains. Other things being equal, a sample of wheat containing say 13 or 14 per cent of protein is more valuable than one containing 10 or 11 per cent protein. Flour high in protein will absorb more moisture than flour low in protein. Flour made from high protein wheat is also superior as a standard baking process may be used for different lots of flour without the same possibility of a poor batch as in the case of low protein flour.

May Not Mean High Quality
The mere fact that wheat is high in protein content is no justification for concluding that it is of high quality, as it may lack one or more of the other factors essential to quality. For instance, durum wheats are generally high in protein, but they are not suited for bread making. Frozen, green or light weight wheats are usually high in protein, as they contain a larger proportion of bran relative to starch than do plumper wheats. The outer portion of the berry, of course, contains a larger per centage of protein than the inner portion. It would therefore be manifestly unfair to grade wheat solely on the basis of protein, as the wheat which gives a much lower yield of flour and frozen wheat which gives a very inferior loaf might be graded as high or even higher than plump wheat capable of being made into good bread.

Europe Not Interested in Protein

Quite apart from the technical considerations referred to above, it would be inadvisable to grade the Canadian wheat crop purely on a protein basis, as the principal importers of our wheat (Britain, France, Germany, etc.) are not particularly interested in protein content, partly because the supply of high protein wheat is very great relative to the demand, and partly because Old Country bakers are not willing to pay premiums for protein. Like the people in the southern States, the French people use a great deal of soft wheat for making biscuits. They do not want the high protein bread demanded by the North American consumer.

In the United States, for the crop years of 1923, 1924 and 1925 fancy premiums were paid for wheat high in protein. In 1923, for instance, premiums ranging from 20 per cent to 60 per cent per bushel over the prevailing market were paid. It was very common in those years to get 1c per bushel for each 1-10th per cent of protein over a certain point. The principal reason why the premiums were high in those years was the short supply of high protein wheat relative to the effective demand for it. In the crop year of 1926 premiums on protein have been practically obliterated due to the large supply of high protein wheat, relative to the demand.

In Canada, where there is an enormous supply of wheat containing 13 to 14 per cent of protein, millers and importers do not need to pay premiums for protein, as they can get plenty of wheat with ample protein at prevailing prices. It is doubtful if the extra money obtainable for wheat specially high in protein would be sufficient to offset the costs of segregating and maintaining the identity of same.—The U.F.A.

the ports of the Maritimes, but that the Dominion government has ignored this obligation with the result that nearly all trade passes either through the ports of Montreal and Quebec, or through United States ports.

As a result of these and other alleged grievances Maritime Rights advocates claim that the population of these provinces is dwindling, there being now in the United States more people of Maritime origin than there are living in the Maritime provinces. Furthermore, they declare that the economic conditions are gradually becoming intolerable.

These grievances have assumed large proportions and threats of secession are freely made. If remedial measures are not taken, the following statement made by the chief of the New Brunswick Fruit Growers' Association will indicate to what extent the people of the Maritimes have worked themselves into a frenzy over their supposed rights or privileges: "Excessive transportation charges are robbing us of legitimate profits and it is to be hoped that parliamentary action on the findings and recommendations of the Duncan report may give us at least a part of the relief to which we are entitled by the Confederation agreement. We are entitled to all the freight reduction the Duncan report recommends, and then some. Our association has been invited by the Maritime Board of Trade to unite with all the organizations within the Maritime Provinces in urging upon parliament that full justice be done these provinces in the carrying out of the agreements into which we entered with the vast League of Nations of Canada at the time of Confederation, and it is the duty of this meeting to take some action."

"Considerable opposition to the adoption of the recommendations of the Duncan report is becoming apparent, and the situation is indeed critical, for if at this time the rest of Canada fails to arrange for the carrying out of the agreements to which they are solemnly bound and thus to withdraw the strange hold they have taken on our interests, we, the citizens of these provinces, must take such further action as will secure for the Maritime Provinces the status we enjoyed as independent British provinces before Confederation. These provinces are British, and it is not a British trait to submit tamely to injustice."

A commission was appointed prior to the resignation of the Liberal government in 1926. It was a Maritime commission. Through an oversight, due to the changing of premiers and the subsequent dissolution of parliament, the Dominion government had no representative on that commission. The result was a natural one. The Maritime commission apparently recommended everything the provinces

PLAYERS ENTERTAINED TO SUPPER ON FRIDAY

Following the play on Friday evening, members of the cast and friends to the number of thirty-five were entertained at supper in the minister's residence.

The tables were tastefully arranged with floral centres, individual and unique candles at each place. A group of young people assisted the hostess, Mrs. Argue, and a very happy hour was spent over the coffee cups.

Several solos by Mrs. H. Stuart, Mr. S. E. Matheson, Mr. H. Stuart, and Mr. Graham accompanied by Mrs. Argue and Mr. S. McGibbon added to the evening's entertainment.

Votes of thanks were proposed by Mr. Kent to the ladies of the cast; Mrs. Christie to the gentlemen of the cast; Mr. Kent to Mr. S. E. Matheson who coming to our midst a stranger a short time ago, joined so heartily in every effort to help in any way, and especially in the directing of the rehearsals during the past weeks;

Mr. J. B. Christie, to our host and hostess for the evening's pleasure; Mr. Graham, as one of the audience, extended congratulations to the players and all who assisted in the evening's entertainment.

These motions all received happy support, and the singing of Auld Lang Syne brought the evening to a close.

Do not forget the millinery demonstration in the community hall on Friday, Saturday and Monday, April 22, 23 and 24, under the auspices of the Women's Institute. This demonstration is free to all who wish to learn something in the art of millinery in terms of becoming colors, shades and shapes.

FAREWELL PARTY

On Saturday evening last a very jolly party was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ted Rogers, who were regret to state, are leaving the district. Mrs. Rogers going on an extended visit to her parental home in Nova Scotia. Conversation and cards were the features of the evening. Several very spirited games of "High Five" were indulged in. A very dainty lunch and coffee was served by the ladies, after which all joined hands and sang "Should Auld Acquaintance be Forgotten" and "She's a Jolly Good Fellow." Friends and members of the W.I., of which Mrs. Rogers is an esteemed member, then presented her with an alligator skin underarm bag. Mrs. Anderson made the presentation, to which Mrs. Rogers very graciously responded. Those present included Mr. and Mrs. W. Heslop, Mr. and Mrs. C. Schaff, Mr. and Mrs. J. O. Anderson, Mr. and Mrs. P. Roop, Mr. and Mrs. B. Harkness, Mrs. J. Elder, Miss Margaret Haines, Ruth Wright, Mr. P. Wright, Mr. J. E. Wagner, R. Wagner, James Schaff, Gerald Roop, C. Schaff, H. Schaff, L. Rogers and M. Rogers.

MILLET TALENT

PRESENTS PLAY WITH GREAT CREDIT

A large and very appreciative audience attended in Playon's hall on Friday evening when local talent presented the play "When Jane Takes a Hand."

No effort was spared by our young men to make the lighting scheme effective and to have the best scenic arrangement possible. Preceding the play, several very pleasing numbers of vocal and instrumental music were rendered—an instrumental trio by Mrs. Argue, Miss Gwen Christie and Miss Helen Adams; A solo by Master Ronald Hoskins, Hillsdale, who impersonated a little darkey girl singing to her doll, and an instrumental duet by Mrs. Argue and Miss Eleanor Kerr.

Between acts, Miss Helen Adams and Miss Gwen Christie daintily dressed in little girl frocks and sunbonnets of green and pink, sang "I don't want to play in your yard," and replied to a hearty encore with "Mighty like a Rose."

Mr. S. E. Matheson sang "Keep on Hopin'" and responded to a hearty encore. Mrs. H. Stuart sang very pleasingly and was heartily encored. As the play "When Jane Takes a Hand" unfolded we had the story of a young girl, Jane Dare (Mrs. P. Aikens) and her father, Henry Dare (Mr. J. B. Christie) kept from wealth by supposed dishonesty of an old time friend John Mortimer (Mr. Walter Miller). Their hospitality extended to unappreciative relatives, Mrs. Poffin (Mrs. S. McGibbon) and her daughter Amelia (Miss Muriel Aikens) opening the way for a return visit to New York, which Jane makes in company with her devoted darkey servant Mammy Josephine (Mrs. J. B. Christie), and her son Archie (Mr. de Alexanders), and how their relatives on hearing of their approach leave their home to be closed by their housekeeper Mrs. Bates (Miss A. Smith). The arrival of the guests opens the way to a conspiracy in which the Poffinghams are opened as a high class boarding house. How this is accomplished, how Jane receives information as to the management of such a concern from Jimmie Mortimer (Mr. Kent) and Mr. Smith (Mr. H. Stuart), and demonstrate their knowledge in dealing with the boarders, Mrs. Jenkins (Mrs. H. Moffett), her daughter Henrietta (Mrs. Kent) and another prospective victim of romance, Mr. Pendleton (Mr. H. Moffett) and how everything comes out right in the end, the old friends reunited and everybody happy, made a plot worthy of the efforts of the splendid cast involved.

This play calls for clever impersonation, all the parts were exceptionally well taken, and the plot worked out in perfect harmony.

That such a undertaking as this with the arduous hours of practice entailed, was carried to such a successful issue, reflects great credit on everyone concerned. In every combination of effort there are some positions more difficult to fill than others, some situations to be met calling for more prolonged speech or action, yet if the minor parts fall ever so little, the fine effect to be attained is lost. So in this play, the first part on in several years in Millet, the audience had an object lesson of worth well done. When the assembled cast was bowing its appreciation of the attention accorded by the audience, little Miss Irene Kent bearing a large bouquet of lovely blooms, presented these to the leading lady, to be given to the ladies of the group.

Rev. A. B. Lane has received a letter from Archdeacon Hawford, inviting him to meet the clergy of the Archdiocese in conference at Camrose, April 27 and 28.

The Origin of Some Queer Easter Customs

The origin of the custom of giving Easter eggs is interesting. The Persians, previous to their conversion to Mohammedanism, reckoned the new year commenced from the day the sun entered Aries, which is in March. According to one of the ancient theories, all things were produced from an egg, hence called the Mundane Egg. The theory was received in Persia, and gave rise to the custom of people presenting each other with an egg, as a symbol of a new beginning of life on every New Year's Day. It is, on the day the sun enters Aries.

The doctrine of the Mundane egg spread quickly to other countries, together with the practice of presenting eggs. But the New Year was not kept everywhere on the day the sun enters Aries, and in Persia itself the introduction of the Mohammedan faith brought with it a removal of New Year's Day. Yet, in spite of all these changes, in various countries the custom of giving eggs on the occasion of the sun's entrance into Aries has continued. At first, the egg was the symbol of the beginning of time, and now it is the symbol of the Resurrection. This is the real origin of the Easter egg of the Greek and Roman churches. The Roman church brought it to England, and from there it has spread all over the civilized world.

New Clothes on Easter
In some countries it has long been considered unlucky to omit wearing new clothes on Easter Day. In certain country places in Europe, all the young people go to the nearest market town to buy some new article of dress or personal adornment, as otherwise they believe that birds, notably rooks or cranes, will spoil their clothes.

Now we have in north America the customs of many lands, the German hare transformed into the American rabbit, the decorated eggs of France, the Easter gifts of Russia, and every year the Easter spirit seems to grow stronger.

Easter appeals to both adults and children, and is looked forward to every year hopefully and with reverence.
